

GPP 456 : Ethics and Politics of Public Service

This course examines ethical and political questions that arise in doing public service work, whether volunteering, service learning, humanitarian endeavours overseas, or public service professions such as medicine and teaching. What motives do people have to engage in public service work? Are self-interested motives troublesome? What is the connection between service work and justice? Should the government or schools require citizens or students to perform service work? Is mandatory service an oxymoron? This course will aid you conduct a critical investigation of ethics, ideals and values commonly attributed to public service in Saudi Arabia.

Credits 3

Prerequisite Courses

LAW 433

LAW 434

LAW 436

LAW 437

LAW 438

Corequisites

NONE