

ISL 113 : Islamic Studies II

Islamic Medical Jurisprudence introduces the importance of learning medicine in Islam and presents the Islamic legislative rulings related to various medical issues. It also includes the principles of jurisprudence and their legislative objectives. It presents contemporary medical issues and Islamic legislative stances. The course counts as the social science component of the university's General Education Requirements.

Credits 2

Prerequisite Courses

ISL 101