

4.7 Litigation Hold for Records

University departments and colleges must ensure that they not destroy records that are currently part of, or are likely to be part of, any legal action or proceeding, litigation, audit, investigation, or review, even if the records retention schedules or other policies or procedures indicate that the records are eligible for destruction. For more information, contact the Vice President who will contact Alfaisal University legal counsel.