

ECO 320 : Islamic Economics & Finance

This course is designed to introduce foundations and instruments of Islamic economics and finance within two parts. In the first part, the course will define Islamic economics and review its fundamental economic principles and discuss the historical development of Islamic economic thought. In the second part, the course will provide a relationship between Islamic economics and finance by covering the foundations of Islamic finance and its historical development.

Credits 3

Core Requirement

BEC

Prerequisite Courses

FIN 201