

ME 406 : Mechatronics

The course teaches the acquisition of the knowledge and skills required to design and control electromechanical systems. The basic material will be covered in classroom lectures and discussions. Much of the learning will take place in the laboratory where students will learn to build and operate representative electromechanical systems. The class includes a final project.

Credits 3

Lab Hours 0

Lecture Hours 3

Tutoring Hours 0

Prerequisite Courses

ME 306

Corequisites

none