SE 117 : Software Practice and Society

This course examines the role of computers and software and their impact on society. It discusses Ethical Foundations for IT professional and IT users; Governance, Regulations, and Computer and Internet Crimes; Intellectual Property; Privacy; Security; Professional Responsibility from the perspective of software engineering and the local and regional laws and regulations.

Credits 3
Lab Hours 0
Lecture Hours 3
Tutoring Hours 0
Prerequisites
None
Corequisites
None